

REGULATIONS OF THE FULBRIGHT AWARD PROGRAMS

General Provisions

1. The Polish-U.S. Fulbright Commission (hereinafter referred to as the "Fulbright Commission") awards grants under award programs available to Polish and U.S. citizens.
2. Awards are funded by the governments of the Republic of Poland and the United States of America, higher education institutions and non-governmental entities.
3. The Fulbright Commission grants the awards through open competitions, publicly announced in Poland and the U.S.
4. Applicable formal criteria, necessary documentation (grant applications), competition procedures and financial provisions are covered under each of the award programs presented below.
5. The regulations of the Fulbright award programs as well as total grant benefits are approved by the Polish-U.S. Fulbright Commission's Board (hereinafter referred to as the "Board").
6. Selection Committee of the Polish-U.S. Fulbright Commission (hereinafter referred to as the "Selection Committee"), consists of Board representatives, Fulbright Commission's staff and other invited persons. Selection Committee holds interviews with candidates and draws up a list of candidates recommended for the award. The list of candidates recommended for the award is approved by the Board.
7. For all award programs, preference is given to candidates who have not previously received a Fulbright grant within the same grant category.
8. Awards are finally approved by J. William Fulbright Foreign Scholarship Board (hereinafter referred to as "FFSB"), headquartered in Washington D.C.
9. Decisions of the Board and FFSB are final and may not be appealed.
10. Pursuant to the FFSB regulations, the Fulbright Commission does not explain the reasons for the selection or non-selection of applicants.
11. The Fulbright Commission may disseminate the information about the results of the award competition through mass media.
12. The Fulbright Commission administers award programs in collaboration with the Institute of International Education (hereinafter referred to as "IIE"), the Council for International Exchange of Scholars (hereinafter referred to as "CIES"), and World Learning (hereinafter referred to as "WL").

Regulations of the Award Programs

POLISH (FOREIGN) STUDENT PROGRAM

I. FULBRIGHT GRADUATE STUDENT AWARD

A. General Rules and Formal Criteria

1. Awards are granted through a competition open to graduates of higher education institutions who intend to enroll in any master's or doctoral program or other study program which awards a graduate diploma at a U.S. higher education institution, except for medical studies requiring direct contact with patients, LLM and MBA programs.
2. Awards are offered for the first year of studies comprising 9 or 10 months, depending on the program (1 academic year).
3. A candidate for the award can choose between 2 placement tracks – with the assistance of IIE (IIE-Placed) or without the assistance of IIE (Self-Placed).
4. Individuals eligible to apply:
 - a. Are Polish citizens who do not have dual Polish and U.S. citizenship or permanent residence in the U.S. (green card);
 - b. Are not in the United States at the time of submitting the application and have not resided in the United States for 5 or more consecutive years in the six-year period preceding the date of application. A candidate who has lived in the United States for 9 months (or more) during a calendar year is deemed to have resided in the United States for that year. Additionally, preference is given to those candidates who have not had substantial recent experience in the United States, which is defined as a period aggregating more than an academic year (9 months) during the past 5 years;

- c. Hold, at a minimum, a bachelor's degree (licencjat/inżynier degree if the studies were completed in Poland) at the time of application or will be awarded the degree by June of the grant year at the latest;
 - d. Maintained a high grade point average during the course of their studies, and are able to demonstrate their outstanding accomplishments and clearly specified academic and research interests;
 - e. Have a very good command of the English language;
 - f. Meet formal requirements of J-1 visa.
5. The grant of up to 47 000 USD is for the cost of the first year of study at a higher education institution in the U.S. The grant may be renewed for grantees continuing their studies in their second year in the amount not higher than in the previous year, reduced by the cost of the travel allowance. The funding renewal for the second year may be granted provided that the candidate maintains a high grade point average during the first year of study.

B. Grant Application

1. In order to take part in the award competition, the candidate must timely submit a complete electronic grant application in the Slate system.
2. The application consists of an application form, which includes the following documents in the English language:
 - a. Study/Research Objectives essay;
 - b. Personal Statement;
 - c. Curriculum Vitae with a list of academic as well as non-academic accomplishments;
 - d. Bachelor's diploma (licencjat/inżynier diploma if the studies were completed in Poland) and/or Master's diploma, with diploma supplement and/or transcript, or a statement confirming the planned completion of the study program by June preceding the academic year for which the call for proposals applies accompanied by the transcript;
 - e. Document confirming candidate's very good command of the English language at the B2 level or higher (documents issued in Polish will be also accepted);
 - f. 3 letters of recommendation submitted by the recommending individuals through the Slate system.

C. Competition Procedure

1. The competition procedure consists of the following stages:

STAGE 1: Fulbright Commission's staff performs a formal check of applications and provides the Director with a list of complete applications.

STAGE 2: Fulbright Commission's staff sends the candidates' applications to independent subject matter experts for their evaluation of the proposed projects. Prior to evaluating projects, reviewers sign a declaration of no conflict of interest and confidentiality. The evaluations are the basis for the list of candidates recommended for interviews. The list is presented to the Board.

STAGE 3: Selection Committee holds interviews with candidates in the English language. Candidates are evaluated in accordance with the established evaluation criteria.
2. In particular, the following are considered in the assessment:
 - a. Candidate's Study/Research Objectives, including substantiation why the study program should be conducted in the U.S.;
 - b. Candidate's academic background, including the field of completed studies;
 - c. Candidate's academic track record and academic/artistic as well as non-academic accomplishments;
 - d. Candidate's participation in research projects;
 - e. Personal Statement;
 - f. Candidate's command of the English language;
 - g. Opinions in letters of recommendation;
 - h. Candidate's ability and readiness to further Fulbright ideas and mission during and after the grant;

- i. Contribution of the application to scientific developments in Poland and the U.S., and implementation of Fulbright Commission's priorities set for the given academic year.
3. The Director on behalf of the Management Board presents the results to the Board. The Board approves selected candidates by the majority vote as per the Statute of the Fulbright Commission. The list of candidates nominated for the award is sent for FFSB's approval.
4. The nominees declare in the designated timeframe the selected placement track – IIE-Placed or Self-Placed. Lack of timely decision results in the automatic assignment of the nominee to the Self-Placed track.
5. In the IIE-Placed track:
 - a. IIE assists the candidate in selecting U.S. institutions and programs, and approves the final list of institutions to which the application for admission will be submitted;
 - b. IIE, on behalf of the candidate, submits all application documents required by the U.S. institutions, covers the expenses such as test costs and application fees, and negotiates terms and conditions of the admission with the institutions;
 - c. The candidate agrees not to make direct or indirect contact with the U.S. institutions during the application process unless authorized in advance to do so by IIE;
 - d. All nominees who do not hold current TOEFL/IELTS and GRE scores or whose scores are unsatisfactory will be required to take the TOEFL and GRE test (available free of charge);
 - e. Study programs and institutions preferred by the candidate will be considered provided that the candidate's qualifications and application documents, according to IIE's assessment, meet the application requirements, and the program is a good fit for candidate's needs and goals. However, the Fulbright Commission in cooperation with IIE reserves the right to choose different institutions.
6. In the Self-Placed track:
 - a. The decision of which U.S. program and institution the candidate applies to is made independently by the candidate based on the realistic assessment of his/her chances for admission, program's fit for his/her needs, and financial capabilities;
 - b. The candidate, without IIE's assistance, submits all application documents required by U.S. institutions, covers all expenses such as test costs and application fees, and negotiates terms and conditions of the admission with the institutions independently;
 - c. According to the Fulbright Commission's instructions, the candidate is obliged to provide information about the institutions and programs s/he will be submitting the application to.
7. Should the total cost of the first year of the selected study program exceed the award offered by the Fulbright Commission, the candidate shall present to the Fulbright Commission documents proving that s/he has the remaining balance needed.
8. The final requirement for the grant award is the receipt and acceptance by the candidate of the admission decision from a U.S. institution for the academic year for which the call for proposals applies.
9. The grantee must receive medical clearance from the U.S. Department of State before s/he leaves for the grant.
10. Participation in the Fulbright program requires a J-1 visa issued by the Consulate of the U.S. Embassy in Warsaw or the U.S. Consulate in Krakow. Grants cannot be pursued on visas other than the J-1 visa (e.g., F student visas, tourist visas or work visas).

D. Financial Provisions

1. The grant total depends on the grantee's affiliation (cost estimated by IIE or higher education institution), real needs and available funds.
2. The grantee is obliged to present to the Fulbright Commission all documents relating to financial aid received from other sources, apart from the Fulbright award, for the purpose of his/her studies in the U.S.
3. The Fulbright Commission's award may not exceed the threshold of 47 000 USD.
4. The grant is intended for grantee's living expenses in the first place. It may also cover:
 - a. Full or partial costs of tuition and/or fees;
 - b. Travel allowance for grantee's round trip to the U.S.;
 - c. One-off relocation and settling-in allowance;
 - d. One-off conference and books allowance;

C. Competition Procedure

1. The competition procedure consists of the following stages:

STAGE 1: CIES assembles a committee to review all applications submitted to the competition by host institutions and recommends the best applications to the U.S. Department of State.

STAGE 2: Candidates from Poland may be awarded by either of 2 procedures:

 - a. A candidate named by the host institution submits an application in line with the currently applicable requirements of the Fulbright Scholar-in-Residence program received from the Fulbright Commission and attends an interview at the Fulbright Commission's offices. The candidate's evaluation and recommendation is transmitted to CIES.
 - b. Should information be received from CIES that there is a request for a candidate from Poland, the Fulbright Commission announces a Fulbright Scholar-in-Residence award competition aimed at persons referred to in the point A.1. Fulbright Commission's staff evaluates submitted applications, holds interviews with candidates and provides CIES with a list of recommended candidates. CIES in collaboration with the host institution selects the best candidate.

STAGE 3: U.S. Department of State and FFSB make the final award decision.
2. In particular, the following are considered in the assessment:
 - a. Candidate matching the requirements and project profile presented by the host institution;
 - b. Candidate's availability at the time frame indicated by the host institution;
 - c. Candidate's command of the English language;

U.S. STUDENT PROGRAM

I. FULBRIGHT STUDENT RESEARCHER AWARD

A. General Rules and Formal Criteria

1. Awards are granted through a competition open to students and alumni of U.S. higher education institutions to conduct research projects at: universities, federations of higher education and scientific institutions, the Polish Academy of Sciences and its research institutes, research institutes operating under the Act of 30 April 2010 on research institutes, international research institutes established on the basis of separate acts operating in the territory of the Republic of Poland, the Polish Academy of Learning, and other entities conducting mainly research activities in an independent and continuous manner, educational, governmental, cultural and medical institutions, as well as governmental and non-governmental research organizations in Poland.
2. Applications are accepted from candidates from all fields, except for projects which require direct contact with patients.
3. Awards are offered for 9 months (1 academic year). Shorter grants (of at least 6 months in length) are offered only to candidates in the arts and advanced doctoral candidates.
4. During the stay, the grantee carries out a project agreed upon with the host institution.
5. During the academic year in which the original grant was pursued, the grant may be extended for the maximum period of 3 months through a competition. The financial provisions of grant extension do not cover the cost of a return flight ticket and one-off allowances.
6. Individuals eligible to apply:
 - a. Are U.S. citizens (green card holders are not eligible to apply);
 - b. Have not resided outside the United States for 5 or more consecutive years in the six-year period preceding the date of application. A candidate who has lived outside of the United States for 9 months (or more) during a calendar year is deemed to have resided abroad for that year. Additionally, preference is given to those candidates who have not had substantial recent experience outside the United States, especially in Poland, which is defined as a period aggregating more than an academic year (9 months) during the past 5 years. Duty abroad in the U.S. Armed Forces does not apply in this section;
 - c. Hold a degree which is, at a minimum, equivalent to the Polish licencjat/inżynier degree, e.g., bachelor's degree, before the start of the grant;
 - d. Do not hold a Ph.D. degree at the time of application.
7. The Fulbright Commission shall use its best endeavors to place the grantee at his/her selected host institution. The Fulbright Commission reserves the right to choose a different one.

B. Grant Application

1. In order to take part in the competition the candidate must timely submit a complete grant application to IIE in line with the currently applicable requirements of the Fulbright Student Researcher Program (available at the Fulbright U.S. Student Program website administered by IIE). Information on the required application documents and application submission procedures is provided by IIE.

C. Competition Procedure

1. The competition procedure consists of the following stages:

STAGE 1: IIE performs a formal check of applications and assembles a committee to review the applications. IIE selects the best candidates and recommends them to the Fulbright Commission, providing a list of candidates with full documentation for further evaluation process. The list of candidates recommended by IIE is concurrently sent for FFSB's approval.

STAGE 2: Fulbright Commission's staff performs preliminary evaluation of the applications. The list of candidates recommended for interviews is presented to the Board.

STAGE 3: Selection Committee holds interviews with candidates in the English language. Candidates are evaluated in accordance with the established evaluation criteria.
2. In particular, the following are considered in the assessment:
 - a. Statement of Grant Purpose, including substantiation why the project should be conducted in Poland and plans for dissemination of the results;

- b. Candidate's competence and experience in the researched field, including research background;
 - c. Candidate's academic track record (including awards, trainings, conferences, publications) as well as non-academic accomplishments;
 - d. Personal Statement;
 - e. Opinions in letters of recommendation;
 - f. Information in the current invitation letter from the hosting unit (if attached to the documentation), including its readiness to host the candidate and estimation of the project's costs;
 - g. Candidate's ability and readiness to further Fulbright ideas and mission during and after the grant;
 - h. Contribution of the project presented in the application to scientific developments in Poland and the U.S., and implementation of Fulbright Commission's priorities set for the given academic year.
3. The Director on behalf of the Management Board presents the results to the Board. The Board approves selected candidates by the majority vote as per the Statute of the Fulbright Commission. The list of the competition finalists is sent to IIE. IIE informs the candidates about the result of the recruitment process.
 4. The grantee must receive medical clearance from the U.S. Department of State before s/he leaves for the grant.

D. Financial Provisions

1. The grant depends on the available funds.
2. The grant is intended for grantee's living expenses. It may also cover:
 - a. Full or partial costs of tuition and/or fees;
 - b. Travel allowance for grantee's round trip to Poland;

Previous Fulbright Specialist Roster candidates whose tenure on the Roster has expired must wait 2 years from the date of their tenure expiration before they are eligible to apply to join the Fulbright Specialist Roster for another tenure.
7. The rules of the competition, formal criteria and requirements may be subject to change by WL/U.S. Department of State. The Fulbright Commission is obliged to accept and enforce such changes.

B. Grant Application

1. In order to take part in the competition:
2. The candidate must file an application with the Roster through WL, in line with the currently applicable requirements of the Fulbright Specialist Program (available at the Fulbright Specialist Program website administered by WL).
3. The host institution must timely submit an electronic application to the Fulbright Commission's address, in line with the currently applicable requirements of the Fulbright Specialist Program (available at the Fulbright Commission's website).

C. Competition Procedure

1. The competition procedure consists of the following stages:

STAGE 1: WL performs a formal check of applications submitted by candidates from the U.S. and establishes a committee, which evaluates the applications and selects the best candidates. WL enters the selected candidates into the Roster system.

STAGE 2: Fulbright Commission's staff performs a formal check and evaluation of the applications submitted by host institutions in Poland. The list of recommended applications from host institutions is presented to the Board.

STAGE 3: Host institution can submit their project as either an "open project" or "named project":

- a. Named project: the host institution names a candidate in the application. If the candidate is not on the Roster, the individual must file in an application with the Roster through WL.
- b. Open project: the host institution does not name a candidate in the application. WL recommends to the host institution a matching candidate from the Roster.

STAGE 4: WL evaluates the matched applications pairs submitted by the host institution and the candidate. The Department of State and FFSB make the final award decision.

2. In particular, the following are considered in the assessment:

- a. Project plan for specialist's stay in Poland and his/her planned engagements presented by the host institution;
- b. Financial contribution offered by the host institution and/or availability of Fulbright Commission's funds;
- c. Candidate's academic (research and/or teaching) track record, as well as non-academic accomplishments;

2. The Department of State or the Fulbright Commission shall cover the grantee's daily honorarium and the cost of round trip to Poland. The host institution shall pay the cost of grantee's lodging expenses, meals and in-country transportation.
3. In exceptional circumstances, and pending availability of funds, the Fulbright Commission may cover the contribution or part of it of the host institution.
4. The host institution is obliged to deliver to the Fulbright Commission a final report detailing grantee's stay and engagements in Poland.

Rights and Obligations of the Fulbright Commission and Grantee (Parties)

1. "The Policies of J. William Fulbright Foreign Scholarship Board", available at the website of the State Department Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs, apply to all programs.
2. Rights and obligations of the parties are defined in the Grant Authorization Form (GAF) and Terms and Conditions of the Grant (TAC), hereinafter referred to as the "GAF" and "TAC", which provide details of the grant conditions.
3. The Fulbright Commission undertakes to comply with the obligations detailed in GAF and TAC, and pay the grant as per rates and payment schedule identified in the GAF.
4. The grantee undertakes to comply with the obligations itemized in GAF and TAC.
5. The competition finalist has the right to decline the award.
6. The Fulbright Commission may withdraw the award should the grantee fail to deliver upon his/her commitments, violate the principles of academic integrity in all research and/or teaching activities, or compromise the reputation of the Fulbright Program or award funding partner.

Final Provisions

1. This Regulation comes into effect on February 1st 2019 upon Board's approval.
